Create a compassionate, caring school environment. Examine how a change in teaching philosophy can help awaken the passion for learning in students. Learn how to promote kindness in the classroom, and understand the power of stories in engaging students. Explore research-based strategies to enhance teacher-student and peer relationships. Discover how to inspire purpose, reach students' hearts, and cultivate student security, identity, and belonging.

Benefits

- Create safe, welcoming environments that encourage students to be present and positive.
- Explore the importance for educators to both instruct and awaken learners.
- Distinguish between methodical, metaphorical, and mystical truths, and understand the role each plays in awakening the learner.
- Teach essential cognitive skills that align with the Common Core State Standards.
- Promote student engagement using the self-system.

The goal of the Awaken the Learner campaign is to help teachers impact students on a deeper level—to help them experience truth and find purpose within themselves—rather than just hearing or memorizing information.”

Awaken the Learner Workshop

This workshop is a unique collaboration between Darrell Scott, the father of Rachel Scott, who was killed in the 1999 shooting at Columbine High School, and Dr. Robert J. Marzano, an educational researcher with 40 years of experience.

Darrell, Dr. Marzano, and associates from Rachel's Challenge and Marzano Research present two perspectives on how to awaken students in the classroom. Darrell's perspective reviews the history and philosophy behind a system of education that reaches students' hearts, not just their heads. Dr. Marzano's perspective outlines research-based strategies that teachers can use to both instruct and awaken learners, presenting a model of student motivation that illuminates various ways students think, why they make certain decisions, and how they can be inspired in the classroom.

Learning Outcomes

- Learn the history and philosophy behind a unique approach to reaching students' hearts.
- Discover ways to create a culture and climate in your classroom that will awaken students to new possibilities.
- Explore a model of behavior, decision making, and engagement that illuminates student motivation and actions in the classroom.
- Consider strategies for effectively and efficiently instructing learners.
- Reflect on your own teaching practices and the extent to which they instill purpose and inspiration in students.
