

Assess and report

to enhance learning

BKL019 $24.95
ISBN 978-0-9858902-8-5

Accurately report students' academic strengths and weaknesses with standards-based grading. Rather than using traditional systems that incorporate nonacademic factors such as attendance and behavior, learn to assess and report student performance based on prioritized standards. You will discover reliable, practical methods for analyzing what students have learned and gain effective strategies for offering students feedback on their progress.

Benefits

- Distinguish between standards-based and standards-referenced grading, and examine the basis of each.
- Understand the research and reasoning for standards-based grading, and read other educators' accounts of applying it in their schools.
- Examine current grading practices, and identify ways to ensure grades accurately reflect students' strengths and weaknesses.
- Discover how to improve student achievement through meaningful, measurable, and accurate reporting.
- Address the role of exceptional learners—students with special needs, English learners, and gifted and talented students—in the assessment process.

Standards-Based Grading for School Leaders Workshop

Implement effective grading practices. Transform your school's grading system into one that really shows what students know. Your team will explore specific aspects of standards-based grading implementation, from identifying prioritized standards and composing proficiency scales to creating aligned assessments and revising report cards.

Grades pose tremendous consequences for students. At this workshop, you'll explore standards-based grading from a leader's perspective and discover practical steps and strategies for guiding educators, students, and parents through the process. We'll walk you through both short- and long-term planning components for successful implementation and guide you through the opportunities and challenges that may arise during the transition.

Learning Outcomes

- Explore concrete steps for implementing standards-based grading.
- Learn to recruit and build teams of educators to prioritize standards and write proficiency scales.
- Discover three kinds of assessments, and learn how educators can use each type as an effective part of a standards-based grading system.
- Consider an implementation and communication plan, and see a sample.
- Connect standards-based grading to the bigger picture of school reform.
